The vote was so large and the tickets so scratched that the work of counting was laborious and tedious beyond precedent.

The counting at the Westham precinct was not completed until 4 P. M. yesterday. The judges worked all night. They were on duty from 5:20 A. M. Thursday until 4 P. M. Friday.

At several other precincts surprise caught the judges at their hard and thankless work.

By the turns all the present city officers are nominated for re-election, except High Constable Holzinger, who is defeated by Mr. Garrison. The vote for contested places was as follows:

BASE-BALL.

A Third Defeat for the Richmonds by the Baltimoreans.

The third and last of the series of games of base-ball played in Richmond took place yesterday evening at City-Street Park.

The home team were first at the bat, and succeeded in making four runs in the first inning, followed by the visitors, who scored three runs.

In the second inning the Baltimoreans scored two more runs, and the Richmonds returned the compliment by blanking out boys and scoring two runs.

At the end of the fifth inning the score was a tie, standing 7 to 7.

In the seventh the visitors made another run, and at the home team were successfully blanked to the end of the game, the result being 8 to 7 in favor of the Baltimoreans.

The following is the score:

DEATHS.

Death of A. D. Williams and James E. Riddick.

Yesterday two citizens of Richmond, well known for their many excellent attributes, answered the summons of death.

Yesterday morning Mr. A. D. Williams died in this city at the residence of his brother, Mr. T. C. Williams, No. 816 west Franklin street.

Mr. Williams was a native of Richmond, and was fifty-one years old last February.

Nearly his whole life was spent in the real estate business, being successively a member of the firms of Taylor & Williams, (before the war), Grubb & Williams, and lastly Williams & Bowe.

He had a severe spell of illness in March, but recovered and attended to business until last Wednesday, when he was again taken down by the disease to which he finally succumbed—paralysis of the heart, complicated with kidney trouble.

Mr. Williams was a man of considerable property, owning large landed estates both in this State and West Virginia.

He was widely known and greatly respected.

The funeral will take place from St. James church this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

JAMES E. RIDDICK.

Yesterday morning the friends of Mr. James E. Riddick, deputy collector in Collector Woodson's office, were pained by rumors of his extreme illness.

At 6:30 o'clock P. M., at his residence, on Church Hill, he quietly passed from this to a better life. In sight of the place where his eyes first saw the light of life, among his friends and acquaintances before whom he had gone in and out all his life, he died.

He was a thoroughly good man, ready at all times to discharge with fidelity all the responsibilities of life, with an eye to duty and the better and nobler sentiments of life.

Mr. Riddick was a very active Mason. He was secretary of Richmond Lodge, No. 10, and secretary of John L. Roper Lodge of Perfection, No. 5, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite. He attained the thirty-second degree several years ago. He succeeded as an old member of Richmond Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templars, and of Lafayette Royal Arch Chapter, No. 43. He had been secretary of Richmond Lodge for twenty-five years, and it was his wont to refer with pride to his long connection with this office. His death will be lamented by a long list of friends.

Virginia Towing Company.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent yesterday, in response to an invitation from the officers of the Virginia Towing Company.

At 5:30 P. M. the safe steaming Vulcan, recently overhauled and refitted, (both for service and excursions) loosed her moorings and steamed down the James until she reached Dutch Gap.

The inner man having been refreshed with the delicious fare of the season, and an address appropriate to the occasion having been delivered by Col. Jno. H. Montague, all hands declaring themselves well satisfied, the steamer was headed up stream, arriving in port about 9:30 P. M.

An impromptu meeting on the river bank defied the cut of the most pleasant aquatic events of the season, and sustained the crew, who declare the Vulcan a fine boat.

The Vulcan was offered by Captain Maxwell T. Clarke, assisted by Lieutenant Jno. A. Uphur, both officers of the Virginia Towing Company, which company is now declared a success.

The following gentlemen composed the invited guests: Colonel Jno. H. Montague, Colonel Jno. A. Coke, Major Fred, R. Scott, Captain William Miller, Joseph Bryan, Esq., James Blair, Esq., Richard Dunlop, Esq., M. Kelly, Esq., J. W. C. O'Connell, Esq., W. Simpkins, Esq., and Dr. M. B. Carter.

Supreme Court of Appeals.

Penn. ex. against Ingles and others. Appeal allowed and supersedeas awarded to a decree pronounced by the Corporation Court of the town of Danville on the 14th of February, 1884.

Edmund administrator, against Scott and als. Rehearing denied.

Gallie against Calvert and Black against Trower and others. Argued by J. F. Crocker for plaintiffs and R. C. Marshall for the defendants, and continued until Monday next.

Horsford's Bread Preparation.

FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF HEALTH.—Dr. Samuel Jackson of Pennsylvania University, says: "Your Bread Preparation, while it makes a light, sweet, and palatable bread, restores to it the phosphate of lime which is lost from the flour in bolting, and thus adapts it as an aliment for the maintenance of a healthy state of the body."

Mr. Edward Cohen.

Dear Sir,—Without any reference to the merits of the successful candidate, I must as a native Virginian and old citizen express sincere regret that by the late election we lose Mr. Edward Cohen from our Board of Aldermen.

As a devoted friend to our city and State Mr. Cohen identified himself with us in our hour of greatest need and peril, and hazarded life and fortune in our behalf. Since the war, as the head of a leading institution, he has largely helped our prosperity. As an honored member of our most respected, public-spirited, laborious, successful, and inflexible. And his recognition that was publicly made of his worth by making him an alderman at first has afforded general gratification. His discontinuance in office will be a public loss, and one lamented by
